R Performing Arts Academy

Our curriculum is based on Inspiration, Creativity, and Technique. We believe inspiration equals creativity, and creativity promotes the desire to learn and be disciplined in ones craft. Each and every class we start with a daily inspiration to inspire our creativity. This is followed by learning the elements of movement:

Space - the space through which the body moves; general or personal, level, size, direction, pathway, and focus.

Time - beat, tempo, speed, and rhythm.

Force/Energy - the attack and flow of movement; sharp, strong, light, heavy, bound, free-flow.

Relationship - how one's body correlates to everything else: space, time, music, and others.

Quality - sustained, percussive, suspended, swinging, collapsing, and vibratory.

And finally, focus on learning and developing the technique chosen. We take pride in teaching quality technique insuring a strong art education. This includes proper vocabulary; dance; music; or theatre history, and leadership qualities: directing; choreographing; teaching; composition, or playwriting. Our goal is to inspire and properly train the next generation of artists!
